

General Terms and Conditions (Effective as of Jan. 1st, 2017)

Thank you so much for your placing your trust in me by choosing me as your guide. For the sake of clarity and so that we can focus on getting you the results you desire from our collaboration, we both agree to the following general terms and conditions:

1) Scope

These general terms and conditions govern all written or oral agreements between you as my client and I, Yves Nager, regarding any services I may provide to you in the context of our co-creative coaching relationship. Any changes to these Terms and Conditions shall be made by mutual agreement and in writing.

2) Co-creation

The nature of what we intend to co-create through our coaching relationship shall be determined during our first session. Specifically, it shall be based on cooperation, openness and trust. All my services are offered through an active, freedom-based and consciously chosen process. There is no guarantee for a certain success, but I believe you will experience many positive changes that you may not immediately be aware of on the conscious level. At any point of time, we can agree to take a break or stop working together.

3) My responsibility

I will take responsibility for offering you professional solution-oriented services as well as effective tools and methods you can apply in your daily life. As a guide for your process, I will support you in making changes or decisions and I guide you in a respectful and safe way. I will focus on your strengths, resources, solutions, visions and dreams, and together we shall keep track of your progress toward the goals that you set.

4) Your responsibility

It is my belief that you hold all the solutions and answers that you need within you and that these do not come from external sources. It is your responsibility to expressly communicate your wishes and needs to me and to be responsible for any expectations that you have and do not communicate to me. You agree to reflect on the part you have played in creating your current situation and to consider the reasons that may have caused it.

You agree to be willing to make changes and apply what you learn through our coaching relationship to your daily life to get the results you desire. You acknowledge that you are the one who is responsible for creating any change in your life and that your own needs and goals shall influence the process. Please ensure to set aside sufficient time and space for your process so that you can get the most out of our collaboration.

5) Agreements of counseling (for services in the field of life coaching)

During our first coaching session, we will define the work we will do together. This shall include, amongst other things, clarifying what your expectations are in respect of the support you wish for me to provide you with. Together we will identify broadly the process we shall follow and arrange appointments dates and times should multiple sessions be required. We will define how many sessions you may need as well as your detailed goals in a separate written agreement following the first session.

6) Energy exchange / fees

The fees set out below are to be paid by you to me irrespective of the outcome of our collaboration. You shall pay for the consultation time as well as for any time I may spend on tasks requested by you outside of the sessions. If you don't have a regular income and if due to your financial circumstances we agree upon alternative payment structures and fees we shall set these out in a separate written agreement.

The initial conversation that we may have to discuss the possibility of us entering a coaching relationship is offered for free and without any commitment. This shall take place by phone or via Skype and the duration shall be half an hour. The main goal of this conversation for each of us to ask and answers any questions that we may have so that we can see if we resonate with each other and feel if we can work together.

Before I can commit to supporting you through your transformation, I need to sense that you are willing to make the changes necessary to achieve your goals. As an energy exchange for my services I charge the following rates. These rates apply to services for private clients.

- $750 for 5 hours (5 * 1-hour session)
- $1400 for 10 hours (10 * 1-hour session)

Based on my experience, it would be best to reserve 2 hours for the first session. Generally, our collaboration will take place in person on Kaua'i (Hawaii / USA), through phone or via Skype. I also offer you the opportunity to use my services at a different location in which case, you will be required to cover the following travel expenses depending on the mode of transport used:
